Giving myself to disciplined and prayerful reading of Scripture gives me the eye I bring to all I else read and see.

Fred Craddock

My sermon is all around me, from rising to retiring: the people I meet, the stories I hear, the incidents I observe, the hospital and jails I visit, books, articles, TV – the hurt and fears, the joy and hopes of my people.

Robin Meyers

... to be a preacher is to be a midwife of the word. And the midwife has to be comfortable in the labour room; she is skilled and compassionate in the bringing forth of life.
